Korean Use For Human Hair.

some of the countries of Europe, and the supply is said to be inadequate. Our consul in Korea points out that there is plenty and to spare in the Hermit Kingdom, "The Koreans;" he adds, "have remarkably fine heads of hair, and they put their 'combings' to a use that I have never seen elsewhere. A very large number of the saddlecloths placed under the packs of their ponies are made of hair woven into coarse mats or bags, and the halters and head ropes of their animals are largely composed of the same material. I believe that human hair is largely exported from China to Europe. and Korea could furnish a large and cheap supply did the people know there there was a demand for it." Here's a chance for some pioneer of commerce .-Westminster Gazette.

Mines of Petrifactions.

North Colorado and parts of Wyoming and Montana are genuine mines of petrifactions. There are petrifactions of every kind, including many varieties of wood, ferns and plants, fish, toads, snails, frogs, serpents, shellish and objects which cannot be desified. The deposits often occur in levers, as though some great natural convulsion had destroyed the animal lim of a whole district at once. The scientists make very few and tolerably weak attempts to explain the singular phenomenon, and the fact is evident that they know no more about the matter than do the men who pick out the best specimens and sell them to tourists. - Chicago Herald.

Nantucket Ahead.

Claimants for priority are constantly getting into trouble by making statements founded on insufficient premises. Referring to the mention by a Boston paper that a lady candidate for overseer of the poor at Delham was the first of her sex to aspire to that office, the Nantucket Inquirer says: "Nantucket elected a lady overseer a year ago-Mrs. Malinda S. Barney-and again in 1894 has reelected the same lady and another-Mrs. Susan P. Jones, So Nantucket is a year ahead and proud of the step she took."

There was a winemakers' union in Rome B. C. 54. They had regular meetings at which they discussed the best methods of concentrating wine so as to reduce it to a sirup and finally to a solid cake, in which form it was often preserved for many years.

Primrose & West's Minstrels.

Primrose and West, with their brilliant company of minstrel merry-makers, are to follow next Monday night, at Miner's Newark Theatre. This will be the one minstrel event of the season. Primrose & West are the acknowledged world's leaders in this style of entertainment. Township Engineer A. H. Olmstead To minstrelsy they have devoted their has moved his office to No. 24 Broad lives. Its furtherance is their ambition; its proud destiny the realized Mecca of their hopes and their aspirations. They have advanced with it; they are bound up in it; they have devoted every energy, They have spared no expense in keeping this most genuine form of American amusement in the very front rank of popular entertainment. This year is the epitome of their career. This entertainment is new from overture to the final fall of the curtain. They have the best minstrel organization ever put together in America, and their re-appearance here should prove one of the happiest events of the amusement year as they present an entire new programme since their last visit. Sale of seats now progressing.

The 17-Vear Locusts Coming

The Department of Agriculture has published a bulletin stating that two broods of the seventeen-year locusts are due in 1891, and the insects will make their appearance during the last week of May. These locusts last appeared in 1877, and then visited this vicinity. The larva, which live under ground, begin to rise and show themselves about May 20th, the adults remaining five or six weeks. But the danger done by these insects to fruit and shade trees is usually unimportant. It is serious only when they multiply rapidly and oviposit in young nursery stock. In 1877 they arrived in New Jersey on June 1, and destroyed much shubbery, but their ravages were more unsightly than harm-

A New Envelope,

Letter patents have been taken out by Miss Cathmeyer, of Madison, for an improvement in envelopes. The invention consists in printing a small device flep of the gummed envelope in a sitive fluid, stable when dry, but which will run or spread on the applicaon of steam or moisture, thereby showtat once when a letter has been mpered with. The United States Government has recently invited inventors to submit their ideas for some means of detecting the unlawful opening of sealed letters.
